

Dr. Don E. Saliers is William R. Cannon Distinguished Professor of Theology and Worship Emeritus, and currently Theologian-in-Residence at Emory University. For many years he directed the Master of Sacred Music program at Emory University. After attending Ohio Wesleyan University, he earned his B.D. degree and a D. from Yale University, with a Fulbright year at Cambridge. Dr. Saliers lectures widely and leads retreats. He is currently writing on the psalms and liturgical theology. He served as organist choir master for 35 years at Cannon Chapel. Previous publications include: Music and Theology (2007), A Song to Sing, a Life to Live (2004), coauthored with daughter Emily Saliers; The Conversation Matters (1999), coauthor; Human Disability and the Service of God (1998), coauthor; Worship Come To Its Senses (1996); Worship As Theology (1994); Handbook For the Christian Year (1986, 1992); K. Barth's Prayer (1985); Worship and Spirituality (1984); and Soul in Paraphrase: Prayer and Religious Affections (1980, 1991). As Chaplain to the American Guild of Organists he writes a monthly column for TAO.

Ph.